Hi Paul:

Thank you for letting me know. I recognize that mistakes can and do happen—hence my inquiry.

Please let me know if you have a timeframe for when you will be filing the amended declaration. As you know, our response is due to be filed today, and my other obligations will keep me from burning the midnight oil on this one.

Best,
Elliott

Elliott,

Thank you for bringing this to our attention. It looks like there was some confusion on our end regarding correspondence relating to a different OCR complaint. My apologies. We will file an amended declaration shortly.

Hi Paul:

The referenced email was not attached to Ms. Swain's declaration and, so far, my clients have not located an email that matches that characterization. That said, I've worked in government long enough to recognize that there could be multiple reasons for that (e.g., something got misfiled, the person who does these things is on leave for a month, IT issues, etc.). Since Plaintiffs reference this email, sent by an employee of my client, in briefing and a declaration, I figured that you would be able to provide me with a copy. If you are not willing to send me this email, would you please let me know why?

I do not know the answer to your second inquiry. Please let me know which of your clients had their interviews cancelled so we can make the appropriate inquiries, and to the extent that I can pass along information, I will of course do so.

Best,
Elliott

Ms. Kramer,

Thank you for the update. Plaintiffs' counsel is available on the 18th. However, several pending Title IX complaints are in immediate danger of being dismissed. Plaintiffs provided evidence in our TRO motion that at least one of the complaints could be dismissed any day now, based on the OCR investigator's statement that the religious exemption issue is about to be decided and could result in dismissal of the Title IX complaint, causing immediate dignitary harm to that plaintiff. The plaintiffs are suffering because they don't know whether Defendants are going to protect them before they return to their campuses. An expedited hearing on Plaintiffs' TRO motion, or some other direction from the Court, is necessary to avoid this harm.

Good afternoon,

The Court's schedule is rather full the next few weeks. We could set a telephone hearing on either 8/18 at 2pm or 8/31 at 1pm. Do either of those work?

Thanks,

CAUTION - EXTERNAL:

Dear Ms. Kramer:

Defendants request an opportunity to respond to Plaintiffs' 44-page motion for temporary restraining order, which was filed late yesterday evening (with the exhibits filed earlier today). This action has been pending since March 30 and Defendants are in the process of finalizing their motion to dismiss, which is due to be filed on Monday, August 9.

In past cases, it appears that the Court has afforded defendants an opportunity to respond to motions for temporary restraining order. See, e.g., Hernandez v. Oregon House of Representatives, No. 6:21-cv-238 (D. Or. filed Feb. 12, 2021), Doc. Nos. 2, 5 & 8 (allowing a Wednesday response to a TRO motion filed the preceding Friday).

Defendants respectfully request that the Court permit them to file an opposition brief by Wednesday, August 11.
